

We have a great resource in Contra Costa County: a Law Library open to the public! They provide self-help materials, and also act as a clearinghouse for contacts in legal services for those unable to afford attorneys.

There are three locations, one of them in Pittsburg at the new Richard E. Arnason Courthouse, 1000 Center Drive, Room 1045. Their hours are from 8:00 am to 4:30 pm, although they are closed for lunch between 12:00 and 12:30 pm. Their phone number is (925) 252-2800, and their fax is (925) 252-2801.

The center's mission statement is "To provide all members of the community access to research materials to aid in understanding and preserving legal rights."

If you know someone in need, in the Pittsburg area, encourage them to call – and keep this information handy for others who might need it.

Thanks for spreading the word.
